

Databases

Social Sciences

Digital Library of Friedrich-Ebert-Stiftung

The "Digital Library" of FES publications provides free full-text access to numerous publications of the Friedrich-Ebert-Stiftung. In addition to the Foundation's new digital publications, the collection is also supplemented by retro-digitized copies of out-of-print FES titles.

Research

Classics of Sociology – Digital Collection

The database provides access to the classic works of sociology in original language. It is easily and extensively searchable. The collection is constantly expanding, with the development of new sources through the expiration of copyrights.

Research

The Encyclopedia of World Problems and Human Potential

The Encyclopedia of World Problems and Human Potential Online, published in 2000, is a research project of the Union of International Associations (UIA). It collects and presents information on problems facing humanity, as well as their challenges, conceptualization, value and development strategies.

Research

Social Science Research Network

Extensive collection of discussion papers from the field of economics and social sciences.

Research

Social Theory

Offered is a full-text database on sociological theory from the beginnings of sociology in the 19th century to the 21st century. The international and interdisciplinary collection of texts offers contemporary and classical theories of society and the social. The texts are often reproduced in the original and in English translation.

Research

SRH Berlin University of Applied Sciences

Transcript Open Access

Open Access offer (mainly e-books) of the specialized publisher TRANSCRIPT with a focus on cultural and social sciences as well as history, politics, philosophy and cultural management.

Research

SSOAR – Social Science Open Access Repository

The aim of the repository is to make social science documents freely available via open access and to promote digital publishing and archiving. In doing so, the path of secondary publication of already quality-checked literature is generally followed (Green Open Access). Currently, more than 48,000 documents are available in full text.

Research

Wiley Online Library

Wiley Online Library is a cross-disciplinary publishing portal that offers a variety of heterogeneous primary sources under one interface: electronic journals, books and book series, and reference works published by Wiley / Wiley-VCH.

Research